TWO CENTS

SAY THAT REQUESTS OF FUEL ADMINISTRATION ARE NOT FOLLOWED

Light Used for Window and Decorative Purposes Contrary to Orders

REGULATIONS ARE SPECIFIC

It is alleged that the request of the fuel administration for the conservation of light and power is not being closely observed by some business enterprises in Charleroi; that lights for outside and window illumination and decoration are used as freely as ever, although the request of the Fuel Administrator of the Pittsburgh District and of the County, were made public early in the week.

In his regulations the fuel administrator says: "In the first place a rigid observance of the so-called 'Lightless Nights' is necessary. This order positively prohibits the use of artificial light of any kind for external or decorative purposes, including show of display windows, signs, etc., on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and further expressly prohibits the use of artificial lights of any kind for show windows, signs or decorative lighting of any kind on each day of every week between the hours of sunrise and sunset. This would also include mechanically operated advertising devices of any kind requiring electric or gas power for their operation."

The request further states that "moving picture houses have been permitted to utilize sufficient light in front of their entrance ways to insure safety."

Further along in the rules laid down by the fuel administrator it is specified that "in order to make these restrictions as equitable as possible they have been made to apply to all users of artificial light and power, whether supplied from an isolated or independent power plant or from one of the regular power distributing companies."

Charleroi wants to be 100 per cent in all war work, not only in Red Cross, War Activities, food administration and Liberty Bonds, but in the conservation of fuel power as well. This can be done if all concerned will obey the instructions sent out by the fuel administration.

SPLENDID MEETING OF KNITTING AUXILIARY

St. Jerome's Red Cross Knitting Auxiliary met Thursday evening with Mrs. P. J. Connelly, McKean avenue, with a large and enthusiastic attendance. The following finished work was reported: Five pair socks, three sweaters, on pair wristlets. The meeting will be held at the same place next week.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a "Bluebird" social at the church this evening.

LOGANS HOLD HEAVIER TEAM TO TIE SCORE

The Logan Juniors football team went to Belle Vernon, where they played the Sterlings of that place, the score being 6 to 6. The Logans were outweighed, but they put up a splendid game, which broke even with a tie score.

BACK BROKEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

In an auto accident on the brick roadway between Monessen and Webster last Saturday night, two Monessen men met with severe bruises and broken bones. Richard Holdsworth was driving his Ford machine from Donora to Monessen when it became unmanageable and struck an abutment near the Monessen Coal & Coke plant. Holdsworth sustained a broken collar bone while his companion, John Burns had his back broken. Burns was taken to the McKeesport hospital where an examination revealed the fact that his back had been broken in two places and his condition is considered very precarious.

HEAVY AWARD FOR COMPENSATION

Compensation in the sum of $7,000 for the death of her husband, killed while in the performance of his duties as watchman for the Husted-Semans Coal & Coke company at East Millsboro, has been allowed Mrs. Louis Vecchion in an award received from the Workmen's Compensation Board. Mrs. Vecchion is given compensation for herself and nine children. Vecchion was killed by Andy Medavich following a quarrel over their authority, both being deputized. Medavich is now serving a sentence for second degree murder.

FILLING RIVER BANK WITH SLAG BELOW DONORA

The Donora Southern Railroad has constructed an extension of its line below the Donora mills, along the river bank, to dump slag from the blast furnaces and the open hearths. The extension runs for at least a half mile along the river bank, on the old McIlvaine farm, and the company expects to begin dumping within a very short time. About a year ago the company was stopped by the government from dumping slag below Lock Four and recently has been filling in the yard at Bamford but all available space in and about the mills has been utilized, which compels the company to seek another place to put the refuse.

Opening Game of Foot Ball Season

The Charleroi High School football team will inaugurate the home season Saturday afternoon, October 5th, at the local ball park, at which time they will meet the strong Beaver Falls High team. Although this is the first home game it is just as important as the one which will be played with Monessen on the following Saturday. The Beaver Falls team recently trimmed Washington to the tune of 30 to 0, and it will be seen from that score the boys from the Falls are adept at the game, as Washington had practically the same line up as in 1917. The strength of J. Crolius of Dartmouth, referee; the visitors will be a guarantee that the game will be a close one and strongly contested. The local boys have been practicing every evening for the past six weeks and every player is reported in good condition. They will give a good account of themselves, and what they ask now is the moral and financial support of the community. With the proper spirit shown by the student body and the citizens of the community the local players promise to make a record of which every Charleroi resident can be proud. The kick-off is scheduled for 3:00 o'clock sharp. The officials of the game will be Fred Anderson, umpire and Delvaux, head linesman.

State Health Order Received in Charleroi

Dr. A. O. Davis, secretary of the Charleroi Board of Health, received a telegram at noon today from Dr. E. F. Royer, State Commissioner of Health, directing the local body to proceed forthwith to close all places of entertainment, including theatres, moving picture establishments, saloons and dance halls, and to prohibit all meetings of every description until further notice from the State Health Department. The local Board is further directed, if necessary, to placard all doors leading to places enumerated, "Closed by Order of the State Commissioner of Health."

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram and ascertaining its contents Health Officer Darby was in the State Department of Health instructed to proceed with carrying out the order. He visited all places enumerated in the telegram and directed them to close and remain closed until such time as the order would be lifted by the State Health Department in Harrisburg. The order affects all the hotels in town, the three moving picture show houses and will prevent any public meetings for the time being. In the matter of schools and churches, the local Board is directed to use its own judgment as to whether such a step will be necessary. The purpose of the order is to prevent the further spread of the malady known as the Spanish influenza, which is so prevalent in the east and which up to this time has caused so many deaths in that section of the country. By adopting these drastic measures the State Department of Health hopes to be able to check the malady in this state and hold the number of cases down to a minimum.

SOCIETY BEGINS "NEW ERA" STUDY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church launched the "New Era" program of the church at the meeting of the society held Thursday afternoon. The attendance was the largest of the whole year, and the new study book proved to be all that it had been represented. Devotions were led by Mrs. Clarence Allen. Mrs. Pfelehardt, the president, then introduced Mrs. F. C. Stahlman, who led the discussion, assisted by Mrs. Van Speers, Mrs. Robert Whitehead and Mrs. Davis Woodward. Some Japanese home scenes from the collection of Mrs. Whitehead were on display, and were much enjoyed. The missionary study class has received their books and are ready for work. At the close Foch-landing in France every day.

RED CROSS ASKED TO FURNISH NURSES

H. J. Booth, President of the Charleroi Chapter of the American Red Cross, received a telegram this morning from Charles Scott, Jr., Chairman of the Pennsylvania-Delaware Division, asking for graduate and undergraduate nurses for immediate service. These nurses, if any are available in Charleroi, are to report for immediate emergency work. Volunteer services are desired, but salaries will be paid when needed $75 per month with living for graduate nurses, and from $30 to 50 for others. Any who desire to enter this service from Charleroi are requested to call upon Miss Minnie Richardson, Secretary of the local Red Cross for further information.

INFLUENZA IS THE OLD FASHIONED GRIP

Spanish influenza, which is so prevalent in several parts of Pennsylvania, is declared by Dr. F. B. Royer, state health commissioner, to be nothing more than a recurrence of the old-fashioned grip. He says that Pennsylvania has many cases of the malady and it is short of doctors and nurses for its own people. It cannot give much assistance to other states. This is the time to let the sunshine into the houses, Dr. Royer advises. "Avoid crowded places, entertainments and churches where there are crowds, and keep to the open as much as possible. Sunshine is what is needed to keep in good trim."

THREE MEN SUMMONED FOR LIMITED SERVICE

Three men from the Fifth District Fred Schempp and Raymond Kiefer, of Charleroi and Harry Coatsworth, will report at Donora this evening at 6 o'clock, ready to leave on the 7 o'clock train for Ft. Thomas, Ky., where they will prepare for limited service.

The Kaiser said recently at Essen that Serbia and Montenegro "are finished," but the hard hitting Serbia has since been doing hardly suggests a completely knocked-out nation.

PLEASURE, FOOD AND GAS MASKS

This is a big year for the small boy who goes a-nutting. A few short years ago he shouldered his basket or sack and started for the forest with no other purpose in mind than pleasure.

Then came the war and the cry to save food, so the small boy went to the forest resolved to bring home all the nuts he could for the sake of the food they contained.

But now, a need, more directly concerned with life, saving than the meat from the nuts, confronts the small boys and girls of America. That need is carbon for the gas masks of our soldiers who face the deadly gas attacks of the enemy.

The shells of hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts which grow so plentifully in many parts of the United States make a very high quality carbon for gas masks, according to the government chemists who have been searching for the very best material to protect our soldiers at the front. No other nuts will do, excepting Brazil nuts, which are imported.

Seven pounds of shells will produce carbon enough for one mask. If your children live near a wood, let them have at least one soldier's mask to their credit.

Each year many bushels of nuts go to waste in the woods for lack of some one to gather them. This year when walnuts, hickory and butternuts may serve a double patriotic purpose, none should be left on the ground or trees, as long as there are children to gather them. Whole nuts can be sent in, but it is better to take out the meats in order that valuable food may not be wasted.

The pits from peaches, apricots, plums and the shells of Brazil nuts, walnuts and butternuts are the materials which the government chemists wish to use. Do not try to substitute other material which you think would be just as good.

The Red Cross is the only agency which will ship your collection to headquarters. Take your gleanings to them.

ON THE WAY

The Germans are reported to be preparing to evacuate some of their important positions in Belgium. This is not surprising. The recent heavy reverses of the Hunns all along the line has knocked the so-called invincible Hindenburg line into several pieces, with the allied armies pushing with greater determination forward to the German frontier.

The position of the two armies in northeastern France and in Belgium is such that the Allies have the advantage, and by driving north can imperil the entire German line from the North Sea to Verdun. The armies of Gen. Foch are doing this very thing, at the same time keeping Bhl and his beasts actively engaged at every point. The plan of the Allies is to strike at so many points that Hindenburg cannot shift his reserves from one place to another, but must keep his entire line as strong as his force of men will permit. The Allies, on the other hand having the initiative, can strike where they deem it best, and as a consequence the German is having quite a guessing contest with himself.

Indications are, however, that it will not be long before the entire German army will be out of France, that the evacuation of Metz will be forced upon the Hun, and that the greater portion of Belgium will be free once more. These be dark days for the hordes of Hunns who have been robbing and pillaging in conquered territory but their day is about over. His line from the sea to the Swiss border is not only bending, but breaking and before long he will have to secure another line of defense, which will be but a temporary refuge.

In the meantime beware of German peace propaganda. We are not fighting for peace, but for victory, and when that comes, we will dictate peace. Not Germany.

Emotions and the Eye

The thing we look at straightest and most steadily is the eye of the man or woman who talks to us. And no emotion changes the glistening of that eye. Yet, so unobtrusive are we all, especially descriptive novelists, that eyes, in fiction, always flash, and no doubt will always flash, under the stress of any kind of rage. The assassin of the surgeon in Paris the other day went to his deed, as we read in the fictitious part of the report of a witness, with eyes that flashed according to custom. Now the human eye has two places for flashing—one in the clear pupil, showing one point of light or more according to the light or lights reflected; the other in the white. Neither of these brightnesses depends upon the mind.

MESSAGE OF THE GREAT UNITED WAR DRIVE FOR WOMEN

For the first time in the history of this nation, women of every religious creed have been called upon to stand united in one great non-sectarian cause.

The Government has just sanctioned a United War Drive for seven different organizations: the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community, the American Library Association, and the Salvation Army.

One hundred and seventy million five hundred thousand dollars is the goal set for the campaign. It is the largest single gift ever asked of the American people, and the women of America have heard the call.

Already there is springing up a new comradeship among the women of this country, a new determination to stand together to win the war.

What do credits matter or dogmas when sons, brothers and husbands are in khaki on the fields of France?

Women of America have caught the fire of the spirit of women "Over There." When the Allied Congress of Women met in Paris last month—one message was sent back to the United States:

"All the womanhood of the Allied nations must stand united for victory. Think victory, talk victory, believe victory."

And back of this great united force of women from the far ends of the earth there is now standing another unified army—the woman power of America.

Soon we shall see a new thing—women who know in their hearts that democracy is as much a part of a woman's world as it is of a man's world, and that it is just as surely a woman's job to make democracy safe for the world as it is a man's job to make the world safe for democracy.

Women of every religious creed, are standing now for one goal—Victory. To that end the only woman's organization in the great United War Drive—the Y. W. C. A.—has sent out a challenge to the women to Carry On for victory.

It is no longer a question of "When will the war end?" but "When will we have victory?"

The women of America have understood.

ENGLAND ASKS Y. W. C. A. FOR HUTS.

England has just requested the Y. W. C. A. to build and operate Blue Triangle Huts for nurses at base hospitals near American camps in England. An American association has also been asked by England to put up foyers or clubhouses at munition centers in England similar to those operated in France.

The English Y. W. C. A. has established centers for munition workers on a similar scale. Miss Margaret Mirriss, Director of the Nurses' Huts in France, is now in England arranging for huts at American hospitals. She expects to place six secretaries on this work immediately.

Blue Triangle Huts and foyers are similar to Hostess Houses and cantonments in this country. "Over There" they are recreational and social centers for nurses and women in munition factories. Each hut or foyer consists of a large room for games, teas and social affairs. It contains facilities for reading and writing spaces and, where necessary, for cafeterias.

THEATERS

Two notable headline attractions are scheduled in the bill of nine acts that will constitute next week's vaudeville shows in the Davis Theatre. They are Miss Adele Rowland, a popular and ingratiating star of musical comedy successes, and Princess Rajah, a celebrated oriental dancer. In between these two stellar attractions, General Manager John P. Harris will regale his patrons with every variety of up to the minute vaudeville. There will be music and mirthfulness galore, sandwiched in with extraordinary feats of physical culture and all the allied arts of the theatres and music halls and the circuses. Miss Rowland is a premier favorite, not only in Pittsburgh but everywhere. She has played with signal success as co-star with Clifford Crawford in "Her Soldier Boy," in "Very Good Eddie," and with Thurston Hall, a stock leading man formerly with the Harry Davis Stock Company in Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom's tuneful music play "The Only Girl."

The Grand

Douglas Fairbanks, prince of agile cherry actors, at the New Million Dollar Grand next week will entertain with his latest picture, "He Comes Up Smiling," made from his stage success of the same name. This will be the feature of a program in which six complete films will be shown and the best of music played. The symphony orchestra and organ are preparing a program that will be worth visiting the Grand in itself to hear.

The blithe, smiling Fairbanks will be seen at his very best in his new work. The producing company had planned to release it several weeks ago but when the production was well on its way, it was found such an extensive piece of effort was being attempted that it would be impossible to finish in time. For that reason the opening was postponed but it is now assured the film will be ready by next week. Fairbanks has many new stunts and his friends will notice that his acting is fast reaching a stage where it will be a wonderfully finished piece of work. As far as "pup" is concerned the picture is a masterpiece.

Attractus Fan

Conductor Lamb, an old man when Lord Kitching was in the height of his reputation, was of a timid and nervous disposition, usually preferring his pleadings with an apology to that effect, and on one occasion, when opposed in some cause to Kitching, he happened to remark that he felt himself growing more and more timid as he grew older. "No wonder," replied the relentless barrister, "every one knows the older a lamb grows the more sheepish he becomes."

Treeless Australian Cities

Australia, with its boundless scrub and bush has many towns without a tree to protect it from the glaring sun. This has been forcibly brought home to the Australian forces who have gazed in admiration at the endless avenues of England and France that are planted with trees, mainly oaks, elms and poplars. No village, however humble, seemed to be without these avenues, which appealed so much to the "Aussies."

The Life of John Buckley

It was ancient history to some that the "Life Story of John Buckley," edited by the well-known E. C. Buckmaster of the South Kensington Museum, London, was really the story of its editor's life. It was one of the best bits of biography we have in fact, and I am not surprised to find that the question of its authorship has bobbed up once again in the old country.

Don't Trade Liberty Bonds For Anything

To successfully finance the war it is necessary that owners of Liberty Bonds hold their bonds if possible. Where for any good reason it is necessary for them to turn their bonds into cash they should seek the advice of their bankers.

Liberty Loan Bonds are very desirable investments, and crafty individuals are using various means to secure them from owners not familiar with stock values and like matters. One method is to offer to exchange for Liberty Bonds stocks or bonds of doubtful organizations represented as returning a much higher income than the Bonds.

There are various other methods used and likely to be used, some of the gold-brick variety and others less crude and probably within the limits of the law. All offers for Liberty Bonds, except for money and at market value, should be scrutinized carefully. The bonds are the safest of investments and have no-taxable and other valuable features.

To hold your Liberty Loan Bonds, it is possible, is patriotic. To consult your bankers before selling them is wise.

MANY CHANGES IN GUARD OFFICERS

Few of the officers of high rank of the old Pennsylvania National Guard units remain the commands they held when they went over to France. They are being transferred and younger men are going into their places. These new officers are not from among the guardsmen, but are brought in largely from the regular army regiments.

This information came to Philadelphia in a letter from Lieutenant Colonel Fred Taylor Pusey, an attorney of that city, who is in the quartermaster's corps with the Twenty-eighth Division in France.

In writing to friends in the Quaker City Col. Pusey said that Col. Kemp, of the old Third and Col. Brown of the old First, were among those transferred. The only Colonels to retain their commands are Col. Shannon of the One Hundred and Eleventh and Col. Pickards of the One Hundred and Twelfth. "The mixing process has been much applied," said Col. Pusey, "and more is yet to come, so that no officer or man may know his comrade in the service for many days or weeks at a time, except of course the youngsters of the regulars who through the regular staff are running the machinery and applying the principle of R. H. I. P., (Rank Has Its Privileges) which while accented, perforce in war, would not be tolerated in time of peace."

Col. Pusey describes the vastness of the war most feelingly in his letter. "All is different over here—it is all so real and so strenuous, so meaningful," he writes.

"We count men and animals and vehicles all alike—a man's personality is nothing in the whole. He is put out and put under where he fell and a wooden cross marks the spot. Even his work counts for little. He may be put in the nearby village cemetery and he may get a box if the material for making one is available but it does not matter much over here."

COMPLAIN OF MANY EMPTIES IN RIVER

Steamboat men are complaining of the number of empty craft that are tied at some points along the river and particularly at the mines awaiting loading. There are so many pieces at certain mines that it is almost impossible to navigate with a tow.

The French call them Boches, Americans and English folk call them Huns, but the soldiers seem pretty generally to have pitched upon "Fritz" as the enemy's name, even pluralizing the more kindly term into "Fritizies."

General Pershing's historic "Lafayette, we are here" is expected to be paralleled in due time and in another European capital with an equally brief and equally effective "Bill, we've got you."

The Germans are badly rattled but they still manage to describe all the retreats on all the fronts as "strategic moves."

There are scores of residents of Erie who are familiar with the condition of Louis Goebel, the well-known carpenter and all have sympathized with him in his sufferings.

Mr. Goebel exhibited an ugly cross-like scar on the outer surface of his abdomen.

"That is what the surgeons did for me. I was in the hospital for three months. They thought I had gall stones in my bladder and I was told that the inflammation substances had flowed to my stomach."

"They operated on me. Yes, sir, my incision open and after all of that suffering I had no results from the operation."

"I have been unable to work for a long time. Nearly everybody who knows me thinks that I am telling the gospel truth. Yes, sir, this Tanlac has done more for me than anything else combined and I have taken, I guess, barrels of medicine. It's certainly like a miracle."

Tanlac is now sold here by Piper's Pharmacy.

THE MORE BONDS THE LESS CASUALTIES

OUR boys who have gone to the navy are constantly on the alert for the submarines which menace their army comrades on the long trips across the Atlantic.

One $100 Liberty Bond and one $50 Liberty Bond will equip an enlisted man in the navy for one year. Or same two bonds will feed him for a year.

WOMAN'S MITE TO COME OUT OF HIDING

SHE KNOWS THE HOUR OF CRISIS AND ALWAYS RESPONDS.

By Most Any Woman.

In my youthful days money used to get pretty tight occasionally. My father and his partner were trying to do some big things and every once in a while they were squeezed for cash. It was a real emergency sometimes. Things would be just about ready to go over the top when there would be a demand for more cold dollars. And they didn't have them. At such times mother used to notice the gathering of worried frowns.

"What's the matter?" she asked, without much need. She usually knew.

"Oh, we've got a chance to put something through. But our money is all tied up," father would answer and a hopeful sound would creep into his voice.

Then mother would go to some hiding place of her own and bring forth a roll.

"Here's the money you gave me two months ago for a fur coat. Would that help?"

Would it help? It saved the day many a time. Uncle Sam is in just that fix now. He has plenty of good-as-gold resources. But there is a big crisis on and he needs the cash to go over the top. There is a tremendous thing at stake, so tremendous that it is a little bit hard to talk about it. But we all know just what it means to us, to the women, perhaps, most of all.

And thousands of women are coming forward just as mother used to do, bringing the roll they had tucked away somewhere.

"Here's my money. Will it help?" they are asking.

Will it help? It may be that this tremendous day when the whole fate of the world hangs in the balance will be saved by the proffered dollars of the women of America.

Won't every one of the ten million of us bring out our little roll, and say, "Here, Sam, I'll lend you mine?"

OCTOBER 12 WILL BE LIBERTY DAY

COLUMBUS' MEMORY TO BE RECALLED IN LIBERTY LOAN RALLIES.

Columbus Day, October 12th, will be Liberty Day this year. The United States government is asking the country to observe the anniversary of the discovery of America with a nationwide rally for the promotion of the Liberty Loan—the means of saving America today.

The Treasury Department and the United States Bureau of Education are co-operating in this plan and suggestions are being mailed by the Educational Department to all of the schools of the country, giving programs for an appropriate Harvest Home Festival to be held on that day.

L. B. Franklin, director of the National War Loan organization, in a letter to Governor Fancher of the Fourth District Federal Reserve Bank says in regard to this:

"The two central ideas—the discovery of our country and the Harvest Home Festival—are so simple and yet so significant that every community will be able to adapt them to local conditions and express them effectively."

"There is a logical unity between both of these ideas and the Liberty Loan," he said further. "When the people of a community recount the fruits of their summer's labor they will naturally ask themselves what share of them they ought to invest in Liberty Bonds. When they come to realize what the discovery of America has meant to them personally, what it has meant for the cause of freedom and democracy, what it will mean for the salvation of the world in the present world tragedy, when they begin to feel all this, they must of necessity say this is worth investing in, worth fighting for, worth making any sacrifice for."

"The Harvest Home Festival is our earliest form of American celebration before cities were built, and it would be a distinct gain to carry the Harvest into city life. The characteristic harvest of the city is not fruit or grain, but the products of social life. Like commerce, arts, music, architecture. City and country communities will, of course, celebrate the day after its own fashion, but the Harvest Home idea applies equally to both. Whatever a community's particular type of product may be, on Liberty Day its aim should be to reap a harvest of dollars for democracy. On this day we meet not as city or country people, but as citizens, all united for the single purpose of serving the Nation by devoting a part of our products to its needs."

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding, that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to help them?

What are you doing to arm and protect them, and bring them home in safety? Have you bought Liberty Bonds? Have you bought all you possibly can?

Has it occurred to you that one more Bond, bought with a little additional effort, may save the life of the boy from the next door?

Buy Another Bond!
